We are offering a two-day training course in public speaking to help you develop the skills to speak confidently in public in a range of settings from your workplace to GMB Congress.

We are offering 2 venues of your choice and would ask you to complete the attached application form if you are interested in booking a place and return to education.midlands@gmb.org.uk.

This course is designed to boost your confidence by showing you step by step how to be an effective public speaker. We look at:

- How to establish your authority and make a connection with your audience
- How to present your story so that it moves people with a strong moral message
- How to structure your case so it makes sense and is backed up with evidence
- How to use certain forms of expression to emphasise a point
- How to paint pictures to convey a message.

We also show you how to use notes to structure your speech effectively.
